

Austin Maestro

The some ignorant judgmental scribblers who mocked the Maestro praised the almost identical Astra. This is another underrated car I defend. Not long ago I came across a lot full of lhd Rover cars and on the spur of the moment bought a brand new Maestro for less half the normal list price. I was at a caravan store looking for a gas cylinder; and the owner had bought a cancelled export order as a job lot. The Maestro is a small(ish) car with bags of room and lots of glass; and it was nice still to have an A-series engine.

© Roderick Ramage 1.i.2004