

Morris Minors

When I was small my aunt had an early split screen model. My mother's Morris Minor convertible taught me a lesson. I'd visit a girlfriend about two hours' away by Morgan Plus 4, but only a quarter of an hour longer in the Morris. On pre-motorway roads you expected to average about half the speed you drive on the open road, so speed didn't help much. When my children were small, we had a Minor 1000 woody, which needed expensive bodywork, then a two-door saloon, which was the nicer of the two. For holidays a trailer compensated for the modest boot.

© Roderick Ramage 3.v.2017